BARRY DEAN
(writer)

Dean has co-written over 20 radio singles since moving to Nashville and beginning his career as one of the most in demand writers in town. Of these, four have gone #1 on country radio, including "Day Drinking" (Little Big Town), "Pontoon" (Little Big Town), "Think A Little Less" (Michael Ray), and most recently, "Heartache Medication" (Jon Pardi). In 2016, Dean was nominated for a Grammy award for Best Country Song for Tim McGraw's "Diamond Rings and Old Barstools" and earned a BMI Pop Award the year prior for Ingrid Michaelson's "Girls Chase Boys." He has penned songs with and for artists across all genres, including Kenny Chesney, George Strait, Luke Combs, Maren Morris, BØRNS, and more.

LORI MCKENNA
(writer)

In addition to her career as a Grammy-nominated solo artist, McKenna is one of the music industry's most in-demand songwriters. She is the first female to ever win Songwriter of the Year at the ACMs, the first female to ever win CMA's Song of the Year two years in a row, and she also won back-to-back Grammys for Best Country Song for "Girl Crush" (Little Big Town) and "Humble and Kind" (Tim McGraw). In addition to writing songs for a multitude of award-winning artists including Miranda Lambert, Carrie Underwood, Sara Bareilles, Little Big Town, Tim McGraw, Faith Hill, Hunter Hayes and Reba McEntire, McKenna also co-wrote "Always Remember Us This Way," which was featured in the Academy Award-winning 2018 film, A Star Is Born, and received a Grammy nomination for Song of the Year.

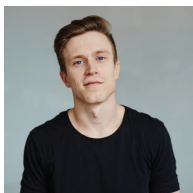

DEREK BAHR
musician)

Derek Bahr is a singer/songwriter/musician who has spent the last decade as a road musician. Though he had been writing songs on the side for years, in 2020 everything shut down and he had no gigs on the books so he took the time to write, record and produce his debut EP, Collecting Dust. His ability to bring in fresh ideas, unique hooks and craft a song led Creative Nation to sign him in 2021. He's a solid lyricist, serves well as a topliner and given his natural musical abilities, he excels at musical hooks and continues to hone his skills building tracks. His time on the road has helped him build great relationships with artists which will serve him well in the writer room.

TRAVIS WOOD
(writer/producer)

Travis Wood is an award-winning songwriter, producer, and musician. After quickly writing a slew of radio hits in Canada, totaling six #1's, 18 top 10's and 10 Certified Gold singles, Wood made the move to Nashville to expand his presence. Wood signed a publishing deal with Creative Nation in 2019. Since signing with Creative Nation, Travis has had cuts with Morgan Wallen, Lady A, Jake Owen, Scotty McCreery, Hannah Ellis, Alana Springsteen, Kassi Ashton, Andrew Jannakos and more. He was signed as a topliner, but over the past year he has grown into a very capable producer and is able to play either role in the writing room.

CASEY BROWN
(writer/producer)

Casey Brown is a multi-talented writer/producer best known for his success with Russell Dickerson. He produced the debut album and scored four #1 hits as a writer and producer. Brown co-produced Dickerson's sophomore album, Southern Symphony, with Dann Huff. Since signing with Creative Nation, Brown has had cuts with Lauren Alaina, Lily Rose, Dustin Lynch, Chase Rice, Brian Kelley, Hannah Ellis, Madison Kozak, and more. Brown is a co-writer on Russell Dickerson's current single, "Home Sweet."

KASSI ASHTON
(writer/artist)

Kassi Ashton is a multi-talented singer/songwriter/artist, signed to MCA Nashville/Interscope LA. Ashton is produced by Luke Laird and currently writing for her debut album, which will consist of monster vocals and lyrics that scream originality. Her first release, "California, Missouri," stirred up widespread critical acclaim from Taste of Country, CMT, The Boot, and many more. As her profile grew, she was featured on Keith Urban's "Drop Top" from his chart-topping 2018 album, Graffiti U. He went on to describe her as "such a unique, original creature." Since signing with Creative Nation, Ashton has opened for both Maren Morris and Jordan Davis, and is a Harley Davidson ambassador. As a Harley Davidson ambassador she recently released her song called "Black Motorcycle".

JONATHAN HUTCHERSON
(writer/artist)

Jonathan Hutcherson is a 22 year old country artist from Kentucky. After appearing on NBC's The Voice, he moved to Nashville to pursue music full-time. Co-writing with the likes of Parker Welling, Jamie Moore, Josh Jenkins, and Heather Morgan, Hutcherson has spent the last two years cultivating his sound, drawing equally from gospel influences, classic country, and homegrown bluegrass with a twist of modern pop. Since signing with Creative Nation, Hutcherson released his self-titled EP in August 2021, produced by Mark Trussell. He has also focused on writing with other artists as well as for pitch, securing recent holds with Thomas Rhett, Keith Urban and Dierks Bentley, among others.

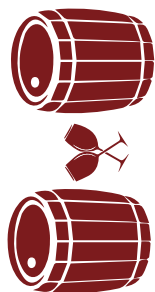

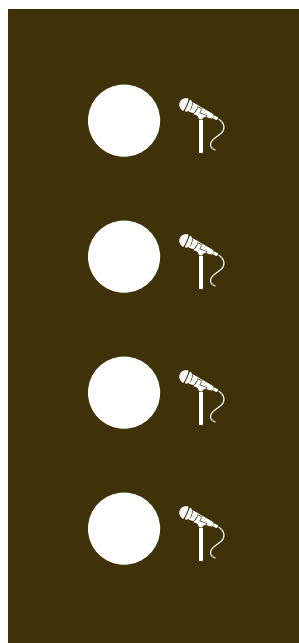

STEVE MOAKLER
(writer/artist)

Steve Moakler is a country music singer/songwriter with Pennsylvania roots. His career as a songwriter has seen chart successes including Dierks Bentley's emotionally powerful title-track, "Riser." He has also had songs recorded by artists such as Jake Owen, Ben Rector, Kenny Chesney, Reba McEntire, and more. Over a decade after relocating to Nashville from Pittsburgh, Moakler released his own radio single, "Suitcase," which received over 17 million combined streams and hit #3 on SiriusXM's The Highway's Hot 30 Countdown. He has toured alongside Old Dominion, Willie Nelson, Dan + Shay, Tim McGraw and Faith Hill, Hunter Hayes, and Billy Currington. Since signing with Creative Nation, Moakler has released three successful studio albums, Steel Town, Born Ready, and Blue Jeans, all of which were produced by Grammy-award winning producer, Luke Laird.
